MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES

Memorial Day 2009, was a beautiful, blue sky day, with a few white wispy clouds. As we entered the hallowed grounds at the Houston VA National Cemetery, there were two fire trucks with ladders extended, forming an arch, for visitors to drive through, with a flag a flying high from the top of the arch, at the entrance. The roads throughout the cemetery were proudly flying American flags. There was a huge standing room only crowd in attendance, all paying homage to the veterans, and the fallen heroes.

The program for the mornings activities began with a fly over of a US Coast Guard Rescue Helicopter, followed with a Cannon Salute by the Sons of the Confederate Veterans and Sons of the Union Veterans. The Parade of Colors was, as always, an impressive sight. Our Color Guard, of approximately 14 members, including John Pedraza, who drove in from San Antonio, just to be with his friends and march with the colors, was one of the largest groups. Stoney Stone did a wonderful presentation of the POW/MIA Ceremony. Something new was added this year. White Dove Memories, released a covey of beautiful white doves that flew up and circled the field several times. This was truly impressive. Frances and David Velasco carried the wreath during the Parade of Wreaths. David has a brother, Frank, who was lost in Korea in 1950. His remains have never been found and with each new discovery, his hopes are raised. Hopefully, one day soon, he'll receive the news that Frank has been found.

Josh Flynn sang a beautiful new song, 'In God We Still Trust'. Hopefully we will hear him sing it again real soon. Later, Josh was asked to sing again, and this time he encouraged the people to join him.

The program ended with a rifle salute, followed by Echo Taps.

After the ceremony at the cemetery, most everyone met at Pappas Restaurant for a great meal and conversation. There were about 40 or more, members and wives who attended.

One for Ripley, Believe It Or Not

As the fighting wound down, in May 1945, the 2nd Chemical Mortar Battalion, then attached to the 45th division, was given the responsibility for accepting the surrender of the German town of Traunstein. Lt. Col. Jim Quimby, Bn Exec Officer was met by a German officer who surrendered his unit, and pleaded for medical supplies, saying that every building, of any size in the town, was being used as a hospital.

While the battalion medical officer, Captain Barnes, was sent to find medical supplies, to quote Colonel Quimby, "I located the town's chief of police, whose name was Ratzinger, and located my CP at his house. We designated places for the Germans to turn in their weapons, and conducted house to house search operation to make sure that no one was left hiding. I am sure that this was the only instance of a chemical mortar battalion being given credit for capturing a town."

Several men in Quimby's detachment recalled that the police chief's son, Joseph who was about 20 years old, and in civilian clothes, was also in the house. He was a quiet kid, and had just returned home, after deserting from the German Army. Joseph was instructed to put his uniform on, and if his record was clean, he would be processed as a POW. "When we took him outside, all the neighbors laughed and pointed. For some reason it seemed like it was a joke to them to see this kid in uniform."

The next day, C Company was detailed to move 25,000 POWs to a collection center. Young Joseph Ratzinger was among this group. Pfc Elliot Stalnaker recalled, "They gave me a rifle, and told me that there were about 200 POWs to every one of us, and to shoot anybody who gave me any trouble. We lined 'em up in the biggest column you ever saw and marched 'em right down the Autobahn."

In case you have not made the connection yet, the police chief's name was Ratzinger, and his son, Joseph Ratzinger, is better known to you today, as Pope Benedict XVI. After this connection was pointed out to Cardinal George, Archbishop of Chicago, he sent a copy of a book about the 2nd Chemical Mortar Battalion, signed by 10 veterans of the battalion, to the Pope. The Secretary of State of the Vatican, Cardinal Bertone responded with a warm letter, acknowledging the Holy Father's memory of the incident and of the troops of the battalion, and stating that he was touched by their remembrance and gift after so many years.

Submitted by Bob Bighouse, 2nd Chemical Mortar Battalion, Korea. This appeared in the '2nd Chem Veterans Newsletter, May 2009.'

SENIOR JOKES

An elderly gentleman... had serious hearing problems for a number of years. He went to the doctor and the doctor was able to have him fitted for a set of hearing aids that allowed the gentleman to hear 100%.

The elderly gentleman went back in a month to the doctor and the doctor said, ‘Your hearing is perfect. Your family must be really pleased that you can hear again.’

The gentleman replied, ‘Oh, I haven’t told my family yet. I just sit around and listen to the conversations. I’ve changed my will three times!’

Two elderly gentlemen from a retirement center were sitting on a bench under a tree when one turns to the other and says: ‘Slim, I’m 83 years old now and I’m just full of aches and pains. I know you’re about my age. How do you feel?’

Slim says, ‘I feel just like a newborn baby.’

‘Really!? Like a newborn baby!’

Hospital regulations require a wheel chair for patients being discharged. However, while working as a student nurse, I found one elderly gentleman already dressed and sitting on the bed with a suitcase at his feet, who insisted he didn’t need my help to leave the hospital. After a chat about rules being rules, he reluctantly let me wheel him to the elevator. On the way down I asked him if his wife was meeting him. “I don’t know,” he said. “She’s still upstairs in the bathroom changing out of her hospital gown.”

ASTROS BASEBALL GAME

A large number of membership and family and friends, attended the Astro's vs San Diego Padres. Members of the Color Guard posted the colors before the game and Orin Smith tossed out the first ball. Orin was one of the veterans honored before the game for his service as a member of the MASH corp. He received recognition and a proclamation from the City of Houston.

As the Color Guard was leaving the field, the line came to a stop for a period of time.

We soon discovered why the line had stopped moving. Former President George H. W. Bush, Mr. Drayton McClain and actor James Denton (Mike on Desperate Housewives) were coming up the walkway toward their seats. It was a wonderful experience, being able to shake their hands and speak a few words with them. They were very gracious., Mr. Bush saluted the veterans as they passed.

The game turned out to be a great one... the Astro's won. At the end, the roof was opened and fireworks were set off into the night sky.

VIDEO TAPING OF KOREA STORIES

These talks are videotaped. The tapes will go to the Korean War Museum, to become part of their archives. Since time at our meetings is limited, we will have to follow some simple rules:

Members will have 10 minutes max. to speak. The time limit will be controlled. To be able to tell your story in that time frame, you should plan your talk in advance. List the things you want to cover, and try it out at home first and watch the time it takes. If it is way over the time, trim out some things to make it fit.

Remember you're being taped and the Museum won't know who you are. Start with your name, rank, branch of service, time you were there and what your specialty was. Then tell your story

Be sure and attend and hear the latest memory. Our newest member, Hank Daumann will talk.

How many of you can remember the carhops?

MOVIE - 'THE CROSSING'

There was a new movie playing at the Willowbrook theater recently, 'The Crossing', and the Korean community passed out tickets to our organization. It was a wonderful thought provoking movie about a retired soccer player in North Korea with a family. He escaped into China to get medicine and food, promising to be back soon. He was never able to return because of circumstances, leaving his family to manage alone. The story brings to light the serious problems plaguing North Korea.

KEEPING IN TOUCH — SICK BAY

Vito & Marlene Susca went on a 2300 mile journey to visit sons in Aurora & Evergreen, Colorado and to attend their granddaughter Alexandra's high school graduation from St. Mary's Academy in Denver. She'll be a freshman at Regis University in Denver, majoring in nursing. Also, Vito entered a scrambled word contest run through the VA volunteer newsletter and was one of these winners of a George Foreman Grill.

Henry Martinez had a good report from the doctors about the tumor in his left arm. As a precautionary, he has been scheduled for 25 weekly treatments of radiation treatments beginning Monday, June 1st. Good Luck Henry.

Sal Gambino had a severe ear infection that affected his equilibrium and Patty had to take him to the ER and then to the ear doctor. With treatment, he is getting better. (Just in time to take care of Patty.)

Patty Gambino recently had surgery on her ankle, and is in a cast and limited in her mobility. Her cast is scheduled to come off on June 1st. She attended Memorial Day at the cemetery in a wheelchair. This just proves that you can't keep a good person down.

MY KOREAN WAR EXPERIENCES

By Tom Campion

I was a Junior in college and 1A invaded S. Korea. My WWII veteran would last 6 months, don't enlist. Well WRONG. I graduated college in June completed Artillery basic training at Fort Sill, Okla. We then took a 10 day cruise to Yokahama & Tokyo. Spent 10 days in Camp Drake and I walked on the Ganges. We were assigned to the 45th division and Infantry Training. A General addressed our group in a dried up rice paddy at Yong do po, which was our division rear. He told us that we had joined a fighting unit. "When we fight, we fight, when we play, we play" We joined this outfit at the wrong time.

the Draft, when N. Korea in-friends told us that the war they were WRONG, WRONG, of 1951, was drafted and com-Sill, Okla. We then took a 10 days in Camp Drake and I walked on the Ganges. We given a 2 week course in Basic our group in a dried up rice division rear. He told us that I was assigned to the 160th F A Bnt, a 105 mm Howitzer outfit, which supports the 279 Infantry Div. Because I had some ROTC training in college, I was assigned to the S-2 sect. Intelligences. Our battalion was sent to the hills above Chincko & Inji on the eastern side of the main base. Their artillery consisted of mortars & 76 mm Howitzers, that were dug in so well that only their bores were sticking out of holes in the mountains. Our artillery had to put a shell right in the opening in order to knock them out. Because I was in the S-2, I spent a lot of time on the main line of resistance. Because of this, seeing what artillery fire can do to troops out in the open, I still have bad dreams about the things I saw.

I spent Thanksgiving Day eating dinner on the main line with the infantry, sitting in a trench, eating my turkey from a mess kit. In November it started getting very cold, but we had very warm clothing, fur lined parkas, warm hats with ear flaps, and insulated boots. All of December of 1952, we stayed in the Punch Bowl. One day friendly planes dropped 15 - 500 lb bombs on the ridges around our area. The Battalion exec officer was on top of the bunker shouting..."Shoot them down".. The Colonel was standing right below him saying "Don't shoot, they're our planes". No one was hurt & no planes were hit.

At Christmas time, the enemy played Christmas songs, and the infantry said they enjoyed them so we didn't try to knock them out with fire.

Right before New Years, we had a lot of artillery firing continuous fire for 3 or 4 hours. On one occasion, at night, a person came to my desk, while I was on the phone with a forward observer. He asked me what was going on, I told him and he said "Corporal, when a General officer addresses you, isn't it customary to stand up. I looked up and saw a big star on his helmet. I jumped up, saluted and said "Yes Sir, I apologize, but I have never been addressed by a General before. He told me to sit down and continued to talk to me about the situation. I guess I pleased him, because 2 weeks later, I was promoted to sergeant.

New Years 1953 came and I realized I was half way home. I was going to be very carefully all the month of January. February came and I was due 5 days R & R in Japan. I spent my R & R in Yokahama, eating steaks and drinking saki. It was also my birthday on the 8th (23 yrs. old).

In April I remember Little Switch took place. All sick & wounded prisoners on each side were exchanged. My outfit spent a lot of time in direct support of the 70th ROK Division almost every night.

In June & July, the 40th, 45th & 5th Rct were supporting ROK outfits, who were being hit hard by Chinese & N. Koreans who were trying to get back some of the land they had lost.

The last big offense by the enemy was July 13 to 20th. 6 Chinese Divisions against 40th , 45th & 5th RCT. Action every night Thankfully the armistice was signed on Monday, July 27th. All hostile fire stopped at 10 PM that night. It was so quiet that we had a hard time sleeping.

I rotated home about three weeks after the war ended and was discharged, Oct. 1st, 1953, 21 months after being drafted.

Summary: A captain asked me on the ship taking us home what my reaction was to 14 months in combat. My reply: “Now that I am getting out of there in good shape, without holes, I think it was a great experience. I learned much, including how much abuse I could take and survive.”

The greatest happiness on 2 January 1952:

Having the ship go under the Golden Gate Bridge to enter San Francisco harbor, an overwhelming experience.
